THE RESURRECTION & THE LIFE

As readers of John's Gospel we have the benefit of knowing the secret identity of Jesus. The Prologue (John 1: 1-18) has told us of the Divine Word (or Plan or Blueprint). Everything has life in this Word and Jesus is the Word made flesh. So when Jesus says he is "the resurrection and the life" we know he is talking not from the limitations of his human nature but from the infinite possibilities of God. We believe the universe has a source beyond itself. It has come into being from "nothingness" and will return to "nothingness". And as Prof Brian Cox has said in The Wonders of the Universe, the time of lifelessness, when all the stars have faded will be unimaginably longer than the time of life.

Holding together, reconciling and being reconciled with the mind-boggling & heart wrenching realities of this incredible life is what spirituality is all about. On the one hand the universe is vast beyond our capabilities of imagining, on the other hand each moment, each little sparrow, each person is uniquely precious. As Christians we believe this reality issues from love, is sustained by love and returns to love. But this love takes nothing away from its true reality, its finitude, its subjection to entropy or the 2nd law of thermodynamics. (Not that I understand any of this science, of course!) Just as we are one with the universe and not separate from it, so we are one with the Source of the universe and not separate from that Source.

In him all things in heaven and on earth were created, things visible and invisible. He is before all things and in him all things hold together (Colossians 1: 15-17). Accepting, trusting & believing in this Creative Energy of God, the Source, the Word, the Christ, brings us into a deeper relationship and unity through conscious awareness. This is a whole, new life and level of existence. As Jesus says elsewhere: "Very truly, I tell you anyone who hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life, and does not come under judgment, but has passed from death to life" (John 5:24).

We need to keep all this in mind when listening to the Lazarus story. If the story is only about physical resuscitation it is of little ultimate use to us. Remember Martha, Mary & Lazarus have all since died. Jesus hasn't called anyone else back from the grave and even our canonised saints have not been able to repeat this miracle.

We notice in the story how Jesus deliberately allows the power of death to run its full course. He doesn't need to fear death as if its an ultimate disaster or tragedy for which there is no remedy, "those who believe in me, even though they die, they shall live" (John 11:25). Do we want to desperately cling on to our present earthly form or rather be one with the Source of the infinite possibility of all forms? The first must die, the second is the well-spring of all life.

So we remember the parable of the Prodigal Son, his father said: "for this son of mine was dead and is alive again, was lost and is found" Luke: 15:24. In Ephesians, Paul quotes the saying: "Wake up from your sleep, rise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you" (Eph 5:14). In another place Jesus says: "Leave the dead to bury their dead" (Luke 9:60). So Jesus can say to his followers: "Cure the sick, raise the dead to life, cleanse lepers, drive out demons" (Matt 10:8). It is clear from all this that both death and life have deeper meanings beyond the physical pulse. In Hebrews 2:12 we read: since the children share flesh and blood, he himself likewise shared the same things, so that through death he might destroy the one who has the power of death, that is, the devil, and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by the fear of death. (DMA)

PHOTOGRAPHS IN CHURCH: Quite naturally sometimes grandparents and parents like to take a photo of their child involved in the liturgy (involved at sermon time, processions etc). This is understandable BUT please realise that no such photos must ever be posted onto social web sites (blogs, twitter and the like) without express permission of other children's parents (there are good reasons for this and ignoring is not only illegal, but can cause immense problems). Please be careful, and considerate.

COLLECTIONS FOR APRIL:

THANK YOU FOR YOUR GENEROSITY : The collection for the Clergy Assistance Fund raised £217.25p

GOOD FRIDAY COLLECTION: 18th April : A reminder of the collection for the Holy Places on Good Friday, for an area of the world which is suffering much at present. We would like to raise up to the Crucified the cry of peace for Jerusalem but also for the whole world, that, beginning from the Land of Jesus, it may become a City of Peace. The burdensome situation of social upheaval and open war, has worsened, upsetting at every level the fragile balance in the region and pouring out on Lebanon and Jordan a river of refugees which overflows the increasingly inadequate camps set up to welcome them. Thanks to the Good Friday Collection, the various Catholic communities of the Holy Land will receive a contribution with which to stay close to the poor and suffering without distinction of creed or ethnicity. Bishop THE EASTER OFFERING 19th/20th April: As is traditional the collection at Easter is for Fr David & Fr Vincent and forms a part of their ordinary income for the year. They will be very grateful for whatever you can give at this time.
